

Literature Live

Centre for New Writing

These unique events, organised by the University's Centre for New Writing, bring the best-known contemporary writers to Manchester to discuss and read from their work. Everyone is welcome, and tickets include discounts at the Blackwell bookstall.

Neil Gaiman

Wednesday 29 October, 19.00

Whitworth Hall

The University of Manchester,
Oxford Road, Manchester, M13 9PL

Neil Gaiman

Multi-award-winning and bestselling sci-fi/fantasy writer Gaiman created the Sandman comic series, and wrote Coraline and Stardust (now major films). He was recently voted number three in the top 100 SF and fantasy authors by SFX readers.

At this special event he will read from and discuss his new novel, The Graveyard Book.

This event will be followed by a Q & A session.

£7 (£5 for concessions and UoM students and staff)
